Edgewater Fullscope Announces Participation in World's Largest Annual Poultry, Feed, and Meat Technology Exposition, IPPE

Edgewater Fullscope Announces Participation in IPPE

Athens, Alabama , Jan. 30, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) --

Athens, AL - Fullscope, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Edgewater Technology, Inc. (NASDAQ: EDGW) ("Edgewater Fullscope") and leading provider of Microsoft Dynamics 365 (formerly Dynamics AX and CRM), Microsoft's modern technology platform will be exhibiting at the 2018 IPPE (International Production & Processing Expo). IPPE is the annual meeting of those in the poultry, meat and feed industry. This event, with a large international presence, will be held January 30-February 1 at the Georgia World Congress Center in Atlanta, Georgia. All segments of the industry are involved, including feed milling, hatchery, live production, processing, further processing, marketing and all support activities.

Fullscope will be at booth C2377 meeting with customers and prospects. Attendees can stop by the booth to see the latest in Microsoft Dynamics technology and learn how Fullscope delivers successful digital transformations that drive growth with Microsoft Dynamics 365. Fullscope has many processing and feed industry customers and Microsoft has a strong presence in the food and beverage channel, creating the perfect partner to further business.

"At Fullscope we understand the business system functionality manufacturers require," said Glenn Goulding, Senior Account Executive at Fullscope. "Microsoft Dynamics 365 offers deep industry-specific functionality to help companies achieve compliance, meet quality requirements and handle the dreaded recalls, while still meeting customer satisfaction and profitability goals."

IPPE helps businesses to succeed in four ways: Education, Technology, Networking and Global Reach. There will be over 140 hours of educational programs at the expo with a focus on food safety, plant operations, sustainability, etc. and opportunities to network at events such as cooking demonstrations and a chili cook-off.
